Top advocacy groups will convene at the Republican National Convention in Cleveland and the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia for a pair of policy summits.

Global Oval will bring policymakers, thought-leaders, celebrities, and influencers together with convention attendees for a series of engaging panel discussions, interviews, and remarks aimed at exploring the opportunity and responsibility for continued U.S. leadership in global affairs once the next president is elected to the Oval Office.

At the Republican Convention, Global Oval is being organized by ONE, the Better World Campaign, CARE, and the U.S. Global Leadership Coalition.

At the Democratic Convention, Global Oval is being organized by ONE, the Better World Campaign, CARE, and Lava Lamp Productions.

Both events are open to the public and on the record. Speakers and moderators will be announced closer to each event.

Discussions will explore emerging issues in global health, the refugee crisis, food security, energy access, girls and women, security, faith, and the UN’s Sustainable Development Goals.
